

Announcement: A change in corporate logo

Our corporate logo has changed to reflect the new ownership. Digicert is now wholly owned by POS Malaysia Berhad. We have undergone a rebranding exercise to align ourselves to new business strategies.

Our core business remains the same – as a government-licensed certification authority (CA) where we perform the pivotal function of the Trusted Third Party (TTP) in the Public Key Infrastructure (PKI). We issue and manage legally binding digital certificates under the stringent provisions of the Digital Signature Act 1997 and the Digital Signature Regulations 1998 and comply with various international standards.

We assure you with best quality of IT security solutions and services at all times.

About the new DIGICERT logo

The red and blue are POS Malaysia colours which signify all the benefits of having a large infrastructure. Digicert leverages on the existing strength of POS Malaysia's infrastructure and network.

In this logo, what we want to also emphasize is, the modern and sleek look that the Brand carries – thinner stroke font and clear legibility.

The 'KEY' icon is a strong connection to 'IT security', hence we design it into the first word of the Brand – 'd', without losing the clarity of the brand name. Usage of lower case gives legibility and less imposing apart from a friendlier approach.

We want consumers to feel what the Brand offers - the security and the empowerment to unlock/lock.
